

Techivation Releases M-Compressor 2

Techivation has announced the release of M-Compressor 2, the latest addition to its M-series of plug-ins. M-Compressor 2 is a spectral audio plug-in designed to give users extensive control over dynamics and tone by combining downward and upward compression, gating, and frequency-dependent processing. It also introduces Techivation's next-generation intelligent Mix Assistant, which focuses this depth into a single control.

The plug-in allows users to shape dynamics behaviour across the spectrum without the band-splitting of traditional multiband processing. Its Shelves and Tilt modes provide control over where processing leans in or eases off, while the new Shaping control continuously refines the spectral response as the audio changes. The new Mix Assistant analyses the audio and generates 12 tailored processing styles. Users can choose four and seamlessly blend between them, with every change remaining visible and editable, while their own manual adjustments continue to guide the result.
